WILCOX & GIBBS
SEWING MACHINE.

We would call attention to the following facts in connection with this Machine, which renders it superior to any other in use:

It forms a flat elastic seam which will not rip in wear;

It is entirely noiseless;

A patented device prevents its being turned backward;

The needle cannot be set wrong;

Can be used successfully without other instruction than accompany the Machine;

It received the Gold Medal of the American Institute in 1863. For particulars, enquire of Reconstruction in Texas.

Governor Hamilton of Texas, has issued a proclamation to the people of that State, inviting them to take measures to restore Federal and State authority among them. Delegates are to be elected to a State Convention shortly to be held for the purpose of taking initiatory steps in the work of reconstruction. Governor Hamilton tells the people that the blacks are free and that their freedom will be maintained. His proclamation concludes as follows:

The people of the State are invited to engage in the work of reconstructing local Governments for themselves. I come, tendering in the name of the United States, amnesty for the past, security and freedom for the future. Every generous heart will feel, and every candid mind admit, that the Government of the United States seeks not, and has never sought, to humiliate the people of the South. It but asks them to be friends rather than enemies.

Conquering the rebellion, the first use it makes of the power it possesses is to relieve the people from the legal consequences of their act of rebellion, and invite them to occupy, by their own act, their former position in the Union.

I shall not waste time or labor in the attempt to soothe those whose hearts are sore because of the extinction of slavery. It died because it made war upon the Government to whose protection it owed its power and influence. It grappled with freedom in a spirit which admitted of no conciliation, no concession—no truce or neutrality; its challenge was to mortal combat, and in the struggle it went down forever. There are those, I am told, who profess to believe that it is not yet extinct; that it still lingers, and by a vigorous application of stimulants may be kept in existence for some years to come; that the Proclamation of Emancipation was but a military order, which has now spent its force since the war is over, and never had any effect except where, by the presence of Union armies, there was physical power to enforce it. There could be no greater delusion than this, and the man or men who encourage such opinions, if such there are, could not do the citizens of Texas, at this time, a greater disservice. If the rebellion is conquered, slavery is dead; the one is as much a fact as the other.

The negroes are not only free, but I beg to assure my fellow citizens that the Government will protect them in their freedom.

For the time being the freedmen are recommended to engage with their former masters for reasonable compensation to labor at least till the close of the season for gathering the present crop. For them, generally, to do otherwise would be greatly to the injury of themselves and the community at large. But let it be understood that combinations among those interested in securing their labor to prevent them from hiring to persons who will pay the best price for such labor, and to ostracise in society those who approve such combinations, will meet with no favor at the hands of the people or Government of the United States. And candor compels me to say to the people of Texas that if in the action of the proposed Convention the negro is characterized or treated as less than a freeman, our Senators and Representatives will seek in vain admission to the halls of Congress. It is indeed strange that men should take a solemn oath to faithfully abide by and support all laws and proclamations which have been made during the existing rebellion with reference to the emancipation of slaves, and in the next breath favor gradual emancipation. It is the part of wisdom and the part of duty to accept what is inevitable without reluctance, and recognize truth, however unpalatable.

I could not, if I were to attempt it, satisfy those who are not willing to believe it, that slavery was never a good and its abolition not an evil. A few men in the South differ with the whole civilized world upon that subject, and I suppose that most of that few will go down to their graves sore and complaining, but, in the meantime, those who believe that a new era has dawned upon us, and who take advantage of the present, will leave far in the background the mourners over the past glory of slavery. Texas has to-day her future destiny in her own hands. Let her use power wisely, and she need not limit her power and influence in the future of our country.

In the effort to aid you in the reorganization of the civil government, I shall be guided and controlled by no spirit of [illegible], do nothing out of malice, and shrink from nothing from fear of blame. Believing that the experience of the last four years has prepared the mind of a majority of the people for [illegible] the light and enlightened judgment, I shall fearlessly challenge their scrutiny of all I may do or attempt. I hope to merit the approbation of those who are devoted to the principles of freedom and equality in government; and difficult and delicate as I know the task assigned me to be, still, with the aid and encouragement of the loyal men of Texas, it may successfully be accomplished.

It would afford me great pleasure to meet as many of the loyal men from different sections of the State to confer with me upon the present and future of our State, as can make it convenient to visit the Capital of the State, and I now most cordially invite them to do so.

Done at the city of Galveston on the 25th of July, A. D. 1865, and of American independence the ninetieth year.

A. J. HAMILTON,
Provisional Governor of Texas.

A GOOD INVENTION.—Among all the improvements in modern mechanism, says the Chicago Tribune, the art of horse-shoeing has met with little advancement. The old-fashioned way of nailing the shoe to the hoof, with all its attendant evils, remains in vogue.

We have just been shown a horse shoe invented by Thomas Skelton, of Rockford (Ill.), which will be very likely to work a complete revolution in the practice of horse shoeing. The shoe consists of a hinged plate, with four or five little flanges or projections extending up on the outside of the horse's hoof, clasping it like so many little fingers, making a neat and perfectly effective attachment to the hoof. On the bottom of this hinged plate the sole of the shoe, so to speak, or the part that comes in contact with the ground, is fastened by strong set screws, whereby the flanged plate is held firmly to the foot, the whole making a handsome, easy and durable shoe, which can be easily put on and taken off, and instead of endangering the hoof, after the manner of the old-fashioned shoe, is an absolute preserver of the hoof, adapted to those that are split, tender or thin, as well as all others.

The shoe is made of malleable iron, and can be manufactured at a cost of fifteen cents per pound, and being so economical, safe and labor-saving, we do not see what will prevent its speedily coming into general use.

Dr. G. H. Dadd, the celebrated veterinary surgeon, on examining the shoe, gave it his hearty indorsement, and says: "I consider it one of the most valuable and perfect pieces of mechanism of the kind ever invented."

One of the most enterprising horse owners is having his horses shod with this shoe.

"POP GOES THE WEASEL."—This phrase (remarks the editor of the New London Chronicle) has become the chorus of a thousand snatches of song, but not one of a thousand who sing it ever heard its origin. But its parentage is as easily traced as that of an English baronet. A famous Methodist preacher, by the name of Caven, was once preaching in the heart of Virginia, and spoke as follows: "There are a great many professors of religion here to-day. You are sleek, fat, good-looking, yet something is the matter with you. Now you have seen wheat which was plump, round and good looking to the eye, but when you weighed it you found that it only came to forty-five or perhaps forty-eight pounds to the bushel, when it should have been sixty or sixty three pounds. Take a kernel of that wheat between your thumb and finger, hold it up, squeeze it, and—pop goes the weevil. Now, you good looking professors of religion, you are plump and round, but you only weigh some forty-five or forty-six pounds to the man. What is the matter? Ah! when you are taken between the thumb of the law and finger of the gospel, held up to the light and squeezed, out pops the whisky bottle." From "pop goes the weevil" to "pop goes the weasel" the transition is easy.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune intimates that there are some male coquettes left in the Treasury. He says that a number of timorous Treasury clerks, having the fear of the Woman in Black before their eyes, have instructed the messengers in the Department to say "Not at home" to every suspicious female desiring an audience with them.

The Daily Oregonian.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 16, 1865.

Andrew Johnson and Freedom

Since the development of the President's plan of restoring authority in the seceded States, a few men of intemperate speech have been denouncing him as false to the promises of freedom which were given to the loyal blacks during the progress of the great struggle. It is noticeable that all these charges come from the same persons who were wont to malignantly denounce Lincoln for the same alleged delinquency. Wendell Phillips, the chief of those who assert that Mr Johnson is dealing wrongfully and faithlessly with the blacks, in his insane zeal once called that apostle of freedom, Abraham Lincoln, the "slave hound of Illinois," and on frequent other occasions applied to him terms equally opprobrious. To put a proper estimate on what he says of Mr. Johnson it is only necessary to recall what he alleged of Mr Lincoln. Not a single incident has yet occurred to indicate in the remotest degree that President Johnson does not purpose now and in future to regard slavery as utterly dead. His determination on this point is as clear as words and acts can make it. From the first there has been no vacillation in his course in this regard, and those who insist that he contemplates the possible restoration of slavery, are confuted at every turn by the straightforward manner in which he has supported freedom ever since the fiat went forth that the barbarous institution of slavery must cease to live.

The President's policy of reconstruction is meeting with bitter opposition, both from the class of men we have noticed and also, for different reasons, from those who would sustain slavery. But it is known that the plan Mr. Johnson is pursuing, was also that of Mr. Lincoln. No man will now have the hardihood to charge Lincoln, the emancipator and martyr, with having betrayed the cause of liberty. And if Mr. Johnson is carrying into effect the plan matured by Mr Lincoln, why should he be blamed? If the plan is not right, Lincoln and not Johnson, is to be reprehended for it. To show that the President is now adhering to the course marked out by his predecessor take the following statement by Mr Dawes, of Massachusetts, a man who may be presumed to speak that which he knows:

> "The interest which has gathered around all that was said and done by the great martyr in his last few days on earth, has disclosed that the day preceding his death was spent in one of the most earnest and, at the same time, harmonious Cabinet meetings of his administration, considering the method to be pursued in the restoration of civil governments in the Rebel States. It is now no breach of confidence to say that one of the most earnest in this work, of the members of his Cabinet, has since spoken of that Cabinet meeting as the most hopeful he ever attended. Said he: 'I left it happier than at any moment of my life, since I entered the public service. Clouds that had hung about our pathway began to vanish, and obstacles that had hitherto seemed insurmountable to pass away.' There was absolute unanimity in that last Cabinet council. And the result was a plan for the restoration of civil government in Virginia and North Carolina—then agreed upon and reduced to writing. That plan, just as then adopted, may be found in the subsequent proclamations of President Johnson, in regard to civil governments in these States, and applied substantially to other States."

Mr. Dawes is known to have been on intimate terms with President Lincoln, and to have possessed his confidence in a high degree. It is therefore certain that the statement he makes with so much positiveness, is derived from no idle report, but that it is strictly in accordance with actual fact.

The country and the world know what Abraham Lincoln, the martyr, was, and how firmly and devotedly he was attached to the principles of justice and freedom. He may have sometimes erred as to the best methods to be pursued in the advocacy of human rights, but he was never recreant to liberty. And as Mr. Johnson is clearly pursuing the course Mr Lincoln intended to take in the matter of restoring the Government, it is the duty of all loyal men to bear with him and sustain him, just as they would have stood by his predecessor under the like circumstances. The President's official acts give conclusive proof that he is worthy of being trusted by every friend of freedom. None but the fault-finding sort who are predetermined not to be pleased, will censure him. His course is liberal, just and patriotic, and ought to satisfy all persons of patriotic, just and liberal views.

REBEL LOSS IN THE WAR.—In his late proclamation to the people of Alabama, Governor Parsons estimates that 70,000 men of that State were killed or disabled during the war. The governor computes the number of men who entered the rebel army from Alabama at 120,000. By applying the same ratio to the other rebellious States we shall arrive approximately at the number of men of which the rebel armies were composed during the war, and the sum total of their losses. The estimate gives the following interesting table:

States	Enlistments	Dead and Disabled
Alabama,	120,000	70,000
Arkansas,	60,000	35,000
Florida,	17,000	10,000
Georgia,	131,000	71,000
Kentucky,	30,000	30,000
Louisiana,	60,000	31,000
Mississippi,	78,000	45,000
Missouri,	39,000	24,000
Maryland,	40,000	24,000
North Carolina	140,000	85,000
South Carolina,	65,000	40,000
Tennessee,	90,000	34,000
Texas	95,000	55,000
Virginia,	160,000	106,000

We should find from this calculation that there were, nominally, in the service of the rebellion, about 404,000 men at the close of the war. Subtract from these the number who were said to have deserted, and we have the forces which surrendered to Grant, Sherman and Canby. This reasoning gives the above tabular statement an appearance of being approximately correct. It can never be known what the exact losses of the rebels were during the conflict. Fewer of the insurgents than of our own troops may have been killed outright in battle, but their aggregate losses from other causes, such as exposure, want of food and clothing, and lack of proper hospital treatment must have been greater than ours. This number of men who have been sacrificed by the wicked ambition of the secession leaders can scarcely fall below one million. What a fearful weight of blood guiltiness rests upon those who are responsible for this terrible waste of human life!

RECEIPTS OF THE SANITARY COMMISSION FROM THE PACIFIC COAST.—Rev. J. H. Chapin, agent of the Sanitary Commission for the Pacific coast has furnished the Vancouver Register with the following account of moneys received by the Commission from California, Nevada, Oregon and the neighboring Territories:

> I am not able to present you with as definite a statement as I could wish, but the following figures approximate to the amount of funds furnished by the Pacific coast to the U. S. Sanitary Commission:
> California, in currency ... $1,22[illegible]
> Nevada [illegible] ... [illegible]
> Oregon [illegible] and currency ... [illegible]
> Washington Territory, [illegible] and currency ... [illegible]
> Utah and Arizona have sent small sums from time to time.
> The Sandwich Islands have contributed about ... [illegible]
> In addition to the above, California and Nevada have sent very valuable [illegible] to the [illegible] Sanitary Fair of Chicago. [illegible] prevented Oregon and Washington from being represented in the Fair.
> The Pacific coast has furnished about one fifth of the whole amount of money received by the central treasury of the Commission, the contributions of the [illegible] being for the most part in supplies.
> J. H. CHAPIN,
> Agent U. S. Sanitary Commission.

LECTURE.—Mr. J. E. Vinton of California will deliver a Temperance address at the Methodist Church in this city on Sunday evening. Mr Vinton is traveling through Oregon and the adjoining Territories on business connected with the Post-office Department, and is lecturing by the way. He purposes to go north the coming week.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO SEPTEMBER 8.

Murder at Augusta, Ga.

NEW YORK, Sept 9.—Savannah correspondence of the [illegible] contains an account of the murder of Capt. Hasbridge, of the [illegible] colored troops, at Augusta, on the night of the [illegible] inst. by three young members of most respectable families of that place. It appears the captain was discovered in company with a mulatto girl, who was mistress of one of the [illegible]. They attacked him with revolvers, one shot penetrating the [illegible]. [illegible] ghastly wounds with their knives. [illegible] The murderers were arrested and quiet restored.

Mails for the South.

NEW YORK, Sept 12.—The Tribune's special says: The Postmaster General is receiving a large number of proposals for carrying the mail through the South. When first contracts are let the post offices will be reopened in the most prominent towns and cities.

From South Carolina.

NEW YORK, Sept 11.—Late advices from South Carolina say the election of delegates to the State Convention passed off quietly on Tuesday. Only about a quarter of the names on the Union ticket were elected. The majority are conservatives. Gen. Wade Hampton and several officers of the rebel army have been returned by large majorities.

Rumored Resignation of Gen. Slocum.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept 11.—The Times' Jackson special says: It is rumored that Slocum has tendered his resignation in consequence of the President's endorsement of Sharkey's action. The News predicts confidently that the colored troops will be ordered out of the State for mustering out, or transferred to another locality. The South is satisfied with President Johnson's policy.

Approval of the President's Policy by the South.

NEW YORK, Sept 11.—The Post's Washington special says: A large delegation from Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Tennessee and Virginia is at the White House. Their object is to notify the President that his policy and course towards the South are meeting with the general approval of the people of those States. The delegation declared that in return they will give his Administration a most cordial support.

Mexican Complications.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11.—The Matamoras Monitor contains interesting correspondence between Mejia and Steele, the former complaining that Cortinas fired on a body of Imperialists, while bandits were taking refuge in Texas, seriously regretting the violation of international law, and stating that it was against express injunction of Cortinas who he said had complained of a similar outrage on the part of General Mejia's men.

Arizona.

NEW YORK, September 11.—Late letters from Arizona represent the Territory in an improved condition. Governor Goodwin and Gen. Mason were vigorously organizing civil and military expeditions against Apaches. New mineral discoveries were made in the vicinity of Prescott.

Internal Revenue—Maine Election.

NEW YORK, Sept 11.—The receipts of Internal Revenue during the past week were $11,000,000.

In the Maine election 73 towns give Cony 17,216, Howard, 9,313 against last year when Cony had 22,510, Howard 15,579.

Gold—private dispatches quote gold as follows: On the 6th, 144; 9th, 144⅞; 11th, 144½ and 12th, 144¼.

California News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 14.—A verdict was rendered in favor of the Government, in the suit of United States vs. 150 cases of champagne marked "C. M.," and forfeiting the wine. The jury were out but ten minutes.

The steamer Del Norte arrived last night with the bodies of Capt. DeWolf and Lieut. Waite, who were lost on the Brother Jonathan.

Sixteen captured whalemen who were paroled by the Shenandoah, arrived here from the Sandwich Islands last night on the bark Comet.

The steamship Sonora will be due from Panama by Saturday with the first battalion of the 14th United States Infantry. The 2d battalion arrived last week, and the 2d United States Artillery will arrive by the mail steamer following. The Sonora will also bring Brevet Brig Gen. James Sinclair of the Regular Army who has been assigned to duty in the Department of the Pacific.

There is not much change in the appearance of the general merchandise market, and a fair demand for the leading commodities is noted. Private dispatches from the Eastern Atlantic cities quote prices of all goods which seek the market very firm and in some instances advancing which has the effect to increase the vigor of sales here. The bottom seems to have dropped out of the mining stock market to day. Nearly every stock on the list is selling at low prices.

Legal Tenders are inactive at former quotations. Gold was 144⅞ on the 11th.

Butter, sales 100 firkins, New York State J. C. at 27½c; 200 do Western, at 30c, and 100 do C. Adams private. Coffee—450 sks Manilla changed hands at or about 22½c. Candles—sales 500 boxes Knapp at [illegible]c, and 200 do to arrive, private. Coal—there has been quite a movement in anthracite coal, the sales reaching 2,000 tons from yard at a price reserved. Case Goods—there is a movement on foot to concentrate the stock of oysters and the market firmer; included in the sales are 600 cases Kemp, Day & Co's at agents rates. Oil—sales of 2,000 gallons coal oil at 1 60 and 1,000 do coast whale, private. A dispatch from New York, dated 11th inst, quotes linseed at 1 60. Naval Stores—10 bbls Oregon pitch at 9 50 and 20 cases Oregon turpentine 1 45. A private dispatch dated New York, 11th inst, quotes spirits of turpentine at 1 12. Sugar—is firm, with fair inquiry; sales of 150 bbls of local refined at agents' rates. Flour—is sold close up to the production, and the market is firm at the late advance. Standard brands, extra, quotable at 6 25@6 50; we hear of some outside productions selling at 5 87½@6, and superfine at 5@5 75 ⅌ bbl. Wheat—a good demand prevails for export to Australia, and the market retains the buoyancy; sales 10,000 sks good No. 1, chiefly to arrive at $1 87½@$1 90, 810 do poor No. 2 at $1 75@$2 00, do choice $1 92½ ⅌ 100 lbs. Barley rules well and in fair demand; sales 300 sks poor feed at 90c, 250 do good, at 95c@97½c ⅌ 100 lbs, and 100 do prime at $1 00. Rebels in Paris.

The Times' Paris correspondent says: For the last week the court of the Grand Hotel looked much as it did in the flourishing days of the Confederacy, before the fall of Vicksburg. Breckinridge and Jacob Thompson have arrived here. These united with Slidell and a host of other representatives of the Confederacy hold counsels there, debating the affairs apparently with high hopes of the future. The [illegible] of war between the United States and France appear to be the basis of their satisfaction. I have heard said the articles of the London and Paris journals trying to urge on the war with Mexico is only a part of the general scheme among the rebels and their friends to give the Confederacy another chance for life. The last catch is to be in Mexico, and the diggers there to be in London and Paris. With [illegible] Maury and Duke Gwin on the Rio Grande, and so powerful a combination here, you may be sure if there is any chance for stirring up a war with Mexico, it will be done. Let the Government and people of the United States look well to this matter [illegible].

THE CALIFORNIA ELECTION.—We have yet received no very full returns of the California election, but sufficient has reached us to warrant the conclusion that the Unionists have a very good majority in the Legislature, notwithstanding the treachery and opposition of some of their own nominees in nearly every county in the State. Three tickets, as our readers know, were before the electors of San Francisco. Three of the regular Union ticket, four of the Independent, or Bolters, and seven of the Copperhead were elected. In Sacramento the Copperheads and Bolters "fused" and elected nearly all their combined ticket. The members of the Legislature from that County are however, all Union men, and will vote for the Constitutional Amendment. The regular Union candidates were completely successful in Shasta, Sierra, Sutter, Yuba, Butte, Tehama, Nevada, Placer, Alpine, Calaveras, San Joaquin, Santa Clara, Alameda, Los Angeles, Siskiyou, Santa Cruz, Monterey and Contra Costa counties. The Copperheads have carried two or three of the interior counties, their old strongholds. Spite of the division the Union party has been successful in California and the Amendment abolishing slavery will pass.

THE MAIL.—Mr. Vinton [illegible] the city gives us [illegible] of our daily mail will [illegible] it will be resumed [illegible] the contract can [illegible] known what has been [illegible] the Department [illegible] further action [illegible] Vinton is confident that [illegible] will readily [illegible] sum which [illegible].

THE VANCOUVER REGISTER.—We have received the first number of the Vancouver Register, the paper which [illegible]. Its editorials have the genuine ring [illegible]. The paper we think will be quite an auxiliary to the [illegible]. It ought to be sustained and we hope it will be.

MISSIONARY EATEN.—Rev. Carl Sylvius Volkner, a missionary in New Zealand, was recently seized by the natives [illegible]. After awhile his body was taken down [illegible]. The brains were extracted, the eyes torn out and eaten, and the [illegible] of men, women and children. Nearly all of the foreign residents [illegible].

By a letter from Judge [illegible] to J. M. Fletcher, Esq., dated at Washington City, we learn that Leander Holmes, Esq., has been appointed United States District Attorney for the territory, in place of J. J. McGilvra.—Vancouver Register.

MEDICAL NOTICE.
DR. N. DAVIDSOHN,

RESPECTFULLY INFORMS THE PUBLIC OF Portland and vicinity of his recent arrival in the city, with the intention of taking up a permanent residence at this place. Dr. D., late Physician and Surgeon in the United States army, is an honorary graduate, a practical and experienced Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, and in virtue of his theoretical and practical knowledge, claims public trust and confidence. He requests suffering humanity, afflicted with chronic or acute disorders, to apply to him immediately, that the medical skill he professes to possess may be made apparent and beneficial to the public.

The Doctor will confidentially receive and respond to any application forwarded in writing.

His fees are usually moderate and will be reduced to individual circumstances.

Dr. D. also respectfully informs the poorer class of humanity that his office will be open for the reception of poor sufferers only every Monday and Thursday, between the hours of 9 and 11½ A. M. Sincere medical advice will be granted to them gratis, and faithful attendance to obstetrical cases, whenever required, Free of all Charges.

He speaks the English, French and German languages fluently.

Particular attention paid to FEMALE DISORDERS.

His Office is at the

The minutes of the two previous meetings were read and approved.

A communication from the Mayor [illegible] an ordinance appropriating money for the improvement of Front street between the north line of Pine street and the south line of Morrison street, unapproved. And a similar communication returning a similar ordinance for the improvement of Front street south of Morrison street and north of Harrison street, unapproved, because the contract price falls considerably short of the [illegible] and to the property and there was [illegible] reservation of the fund to meet the [illegible] of surplusage. Were received. On motion to pass the Ordinances they each were lost, and on motion the subject matter contained in them was committed to the Committee on streets and public property with instructions that they report upon the same at their earliest convenience.

The Mayor also returned an Ordinance authorizing the construction of four water cisterns, disapproved, owing to the condition of city finances. On motion to pass the Ordinance it was lost.

The Street Commissioner submitted a report [illegible] that crossings be made leading half way across each street at the corners of the city plats, which recommendation was accepted, and the work ordered to be done.

The Judiciary Committee to whom was referred the communication of Messrs T. & J. Bramhall asking for a license for their dogs for less time than one year, reported adverse to the prayer, which was adopted.

[illegible] were authorized out of the appropriate [illegible] in liquidation of claims against the city as follows: J. N. Dolph, codifying City Ordinances [illegible]; H. L. Pittock, advertising, $74 25; Portland Gas Light Company, gas furnished street lamps, $218 50; Gas for City Council Room [illegible]; Portland Water Company, supply of water one month, $50; H. L. Hoyt, attendance and repairs on Council Room July and August, $101 [illegible]; rent of Council Chamber for Aug. $[illegible]; [illegible] Saunders and Blake, services $[illegible]; [illegible] rent of No. 4 Engine House for August, [illegible]; Harbaugh & Stitzel, lumber for new [illegible], $112,92; P. O. Lary, labor $10 50; W. J. Ryan, labor, $22,50; D. Wright, labor, $8 75; [illegible], lumber, $6,08; four assistants to City [illegible], $438; H. E. Cutter and A. B. [illegible]; Smith & Davis, $72; Smith Bros, [illegible] &c. for Fire Engine Company No. 2 [illegible] accounts were referred to the appropriate [illegible].

[illegible] the Committee on Health and Police, [illegible] to the purchase of cemetery grounds of [illegible], was taken from the table and adopted.

The Committee on Streets and Public Property [illegible] ordinances appropriating money for the [illegible] of Front street, in accordance with [illegible] of the Mayor as contained in the [illegible], which were passed under a [illegible] of the rules.

[illegible] to prevent Chinese from using any [illegible] place of habitation except by permission of the City Council and declaring their [illegible] nuisances, passed the second reading.

[illegible] providing for a tax of $10 per [illegible] Chinese wash houses passed.

[illegible] providing for the purchase of the [illegible] grounds on the east side of the Willamette [illegible] was referred to a third reading.

[illegible]—Last evening as the Lincoln House [illegible] to the hotel from the steamboat landing, [illegible] its team was stalled in the mud at [illegible] of Front and Washington streets. In such a [illegible] the driver was obliged to take a full turn in [illegible]. To do this necessitated an extra amount of [illegible], as the street is worse than the worst [illegible] can be imagined. Well, away they went, [illegible] driver and passengers, thrown to the right [illegible] rather roughly, for a few minutes, when finally [illegible] on the lower part of Washington street was [illegible] when the man who was first enabled to reach the [illegible] began to use some bitter expressions to the [illegible] the rough and tumble he had given those in [illegible] talking to the driver for a short time he took [illegible] to see a contented expression on the face [illegible], and concluded that nothing at all [illegible], but he said he was actually [illegible].

[illegible]—The Downieville Messenger makes an ex[illegible] of Miss Lester in that locality, and [illegible] of the people [illegible] [illegible] have parted with [illegible] and five dollars on the idea that they [illegible] a magazine called the Pacific Monthly, [illegible] has made its [illegible]. The Messenger [illegible] fully suggest that it would be for [illegible] of our up-country cotemporaries to be[illegible] much of what she tells them as they see fit [illegible] believed in Mormonism, Fourierism [illegible] with an abiding belief in Kidd's [illegible] in the Washoe country, [illegible] of them bilked us so bad as this "now you [illegible] you don't" pecuniary performance of Lisle [illegible].

[illegible] Rev. John F. Damon will preach at the [illegible] Church at Oregon City to-morrow, ex[illegible] Rev. P. S. Knight, who will fill the desk [illegible] Church in this city. Mr. Damon [illegible] editor of this paper. His failing health [illegible] him to leave the sanctum nearly a [illegible] for years a zealous member of the [illegible] by the Congregational denom[illegible], has for some time filled the pulpit of this [illegible] by the [illegible] absence of Rev. Mr. [illegible]. He is a very ready speaker, an ardent and [illegible] and if health permits will succeed in his [illegible].

[illegible] Davis is bestirring himself con[illegible] of the public to the [illegible] by the stopping of the daily [illegible] with Capt. Baughman [illegible] for Milwaukie and Oregon City [illegible], and hopes to be able to get [illegible] by boats above the Falls.

[illegible] street, below Ash street, is nearly [illegible]. About three months [illegible] There is not, now, room on [illegible] to pass without getting in a hole [illegible] any [illegible] of improvement [illegible] they have [illegible], for this street no [illegible] anything is done.

[illegible] should be careful about putting [illegible] one of our good citizens paid a fine of [illegible] Court [illegible] day for violating the [illegible] such matters provided, by putting a stove [illegible].

[illegible]—The boys arrested for being [illegible] the stabbing affray of last Monday, were [illegible], by consent of the parties and at[illegible], in case of good behavior for the [illegible].

[illegible] Court.—A case of negro disturbance [illegible] before Recorder Hoffman yesterday [illegible] in the commitment of one colored person [illegible]. His antagonist John Bright was [illegible].

[illegible] Fred. Muller, better known as "Fash[illegible] of the Dalles and Oyster stand 80 First street [illegible] this office with a collation of which [illegible] was not the smallest part. If [illegible] with this sort of lunches we [illegible] the hungry [illegible] to visit him. He is [illegible] at all hours.

[illegible]—In consequence of the bad weather [illegible] few days, it has been deemed advisable to postpone the races advertised for next week until after the [illegible] they will not take place until [illegible].

[illegible]—The City Treasurer calls our attention to [illegible] will save five per cent and costs by [illegible] for the Nicolson pavement [illegible].

Who Will be Responsible.—Horace Maynard, of Tennessee, tells the people of his State that "nothing is so likely to hasten the era of negro voting as opposition to Government measures by the whites of the South." This is the exact truth. If the whites will do their duty to the Government they can reject or have negro suffrage as they may desire. But if they continue disloyal, the Government must seek support [illegible] it can be found. Southern men cap[illegible] slavery until they abolished it: it now remains to be seen whether they are determined to have negro suffrage as well.

The Paper Monopoly.—The Chicago Times has intelligence from New York that the paper [illegible] have combined to run on half time for several months, and are trying to extend the [illegible] all over the country in order to keep the price of paper up. They were to begin this [illegible] State business on the 1st of August. Perhaps Congress will see the propriety of taking the duty off foreign paper, in which case those [illegible] will find that running on half time will be a dear investment. Cheap paper is almost [illegible] as cheap bread. If the price of news[illegible] is to be reduced, and it is very desirable that it be done as the condition of the paper market will warrant it—such combinations of paper [illegible] must be broken up.

The Modern Journalist.—With the modern expansion of journalism and the absorption of the writing faculty in the incessant production of a vast periodical bearing for the most part on the immediate necessities or evanescent entertainment of the hour, we seem to be in danger of losing the old scholarly type of author, ship such as existed [illegible] in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries and in the early part of the present. We have abundance of rapid and able penmen, writers full of [illegible] on the [illegible] of to-day [illegible] of current manners, but [illegible] [illegible] for the [illegible], the roar of steam and the [illegible]. The age has to attend to so many practical questions of urgency and weight and [illegible] grave crises [illegible] that it has no time to linger in the sward by the side of the great dusty highway, or [illegible] from beneath the shadow of unmonetized woodlands. The man who follows literature for its own sake apart from any design of [illegible] is crowded by the hurrying world, stands a poor chance of being listened to, and the author [illegible] obliged to hold his work until some bargain [illegible] such as [illegible] the market, and offer for sale with the probability of finding purchasers. Except in the case of those few geniuses who possess the rare gift of creative power, the literary man finds himself speedily lapsing into the journalist. He may not have begun life as a politician, he may have had a stronger predilection toward the greener regions of imagination and fancy; he may love old books and the abiding phantoms of old days with a tender and unsatisfied affection; but the press demands him, and will have him. [illegible] asked an [illegible] one day, "that so many young poets finally develop into sub-editors?" The answer is [illegible] are a very innutritious diet, and the young poet soon learns to appropriate the advantages that belong to the sub-editor's room. Accordingly the mere author sinks out of sight, and the journalist takes his place.

The Gem of the Toilet the world says, is Sozodont. It renders the teeth pearly white, gives to the breath a fragrant odor, extinguishing the ill humors which usually flow from a bad and neglected set of teeth. Sozodont is so convenient, and produces a sensation at once so delightful, that makes it a pleasure to use it.

WISTAR'S BALSAM

—OF—

WILD CHERRY!

HAS BEEN USED FOR NEARLY

HALF A CENTURY,

WITH THE MOST ASTONISHING SUCCESS IN CURING

INCLUDING EVEN

CONSUMPTION.

There is scarcely one individual in the community who wholly escapes, during a season, from some one, however slightly developed, of the above symptoms—a neglect of which might lead to the last named, and most to be dreaded disease in the whole catalogue. The power of "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree over this class of complaints is well known; so great is the good it has performed, and so great the popularity it has acquired.

In this preparation, besides the virtues of the Cherry, there are commingled with it other ingredients of like value, thus increasing its value ten fold, and forming a Remedy whose power to soothe, to heal, to relieve, and to cure disease, exists in no other medicine yet discovered.

The unequalled success that has attended the application of this medicine in all cases of

has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice, some of whom advise us of the fact under their own signatures. We have space only for the names of a few of these—

Letter from Gen. Palmer to the President

General John M. Palmer, commanding the Department of Kentucky, has addressed a letter to the President in answer to the charge that the Provost Marshals of his Department were in the practice of issuing "free papers" to colored persons without regard to the legal right of those receiving them to their freedom. It is a forcible paper, and contains many important facts which the farmers of this country will do well to consider. He says:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF KENTUCKY,
Louisville, Ky., July [illegible]

To his Excellency Andrew Johnson, President of the United States—Sir: I have to acknowledge the receipt of your dispatch of yesterday, enclosing a copy of a dispatch of Price, which states that Provost Marshals issue "free papers" to negroes indiscriminately. I refer you to my dispatch in which I say no "free papers" are issued by any officers of this department, which, though literally true, does not quite meet the facts as they are.

I forwarded you my General Orders Nos. 32 and 49. Under these orders many passes have been issued by Provost Marshals, etc., to negroes who hold them, and, I am told, in many cases they regard and act upon them as "free papers."

The reason for issuing Order No. 32 will be found in the face of the order, but the reasons which led to it are these: Many negroes, large numbers of negroes were [illegible] in the surrounding country, who had escaped from or repudiated the authority of their masters.

The Mayor and [illegible] desired my approval of a plan they had arranged for the general enforcement of the laws against vagrancy, and the law which forbid slaves to go at large and hire themselves out as free persons. To have enforced these laws would have produced great misery and alarm among the blacks. To leave the negroes in the city would have alarmed the fears of the citizens, who were beforehand taught to think their presence would cause pestilence. They sought to make me responsible for either consequence.

To avoid both I issued Order No. 32. Under it over [illegible] negroes have crossed the Ohio river at this place alone.

Before the 4th of July an impression got abroad amongst the negroes throughout the State that on that day they would all be made free. Induced by this belief thousands of them left their masters' houses and came into our posts at different points in the State. Every nook and hiding place at such places as Camp Nelson, Lexington, Frankfort, Bowling Green, Munfordville, etc., was filled with them. They were without work or means, and the greater the number and the more destitute they were the more the people resisted employing them. I was compelled from these causes to issue General Order No. 49, and the "free papers" referred to in the telegram of Price are merely the passes issued under that order.

I have been greatly embarrassed in respect to the colored people by the acts and declarations of politicians and presses in the anti-administration interest. They have given the negroes extraordinary ideas of the purposes of the Government by announcing in their speeches and their columns that it was the intention of the Government to free them all, furnish them with food, clothing and put them on an equality with the whites. Invariably a conservative gathering in a neighborhood is followed by a stampede of negroes.

I think and respectfully submit that it is impossible under the existing state of facts here, to enforce the laws of the State in reference to slaves and slavery.

At the beginning of the war Kentucky had about two hundred and thirty thousand slaves		230 000
Our report shows number of negro enlistments	28,818
Estimated number of women and children freed by resolution of Congress of March 3, 1865, 2½ for each man	72,045—100,863
Balance		129 137

One half this residue are presumed to have belonged to rebels, and are, therefore, free, 64 568

From this small number ought still to be taken a percentage for the thousands who have escaped from the State.

For the sake of keeping the small number in subjection to masters the whole race in the State are most cruelly oppressed and outraged under color of laws which renders freedom to a negro in Kentucky impossible.

I have felt it my duty to give protection to this large free population as far as possible, but in doing so I have been on occasions, compelled to do acts which in effect greatly impair the tenure of the small number of persons who are still technically masters of slaves. Indeed, it must be admitted that many slaves have left the State under Orders Nos. 32 and 49, which are enclosed, and every decision I make in favor of a negro seems to start a host of individual cases which comes within the same principle.

In short, slavery has no actual existence in Kentucky, and if the Constitutional Amendment is defeated at the election the whole entire colored population will fly unless I employ the troops to prevent it, and you have not and will not be likely to order that to be done.

To illustrate the effect of my fair rule upon the status of slavery in Kentucky, I will advert to the effect of one rule which I am compelled to recognize and observe.

By the laws of Kentucky—laws once, when all were slaves, just enough in their application—all negroes were presumed to be slaves. Now a large majority are certainly free. To presume slavery from color alone is contrary to justice, to presume freedom without regard to color and give protection accordingly, is to end slavery. I am often called upon to afford protection where there is no proof at hand, and am compelled to presume one way or the other.

I submit these difficulties to meet some of the complaints which will probably reach you from the loyal people of Kentucky.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully,
J. M. PALMER,
Major General, Commanding.

On the 1st of August General Palmer visited Lexington and addressed the citizens at Melodeon Hall. He declared his purpose to discharge his duty fairly and impartially. He referred to the election about to take place and said that while he wanted a certain great public question settled in the right way, he wanted the loyal voters to settle it in their own way. He added:

I may not approve your decision but I shall approve in every freeman, in every legal voter in the State, the exercise of his own free uncontrolled suffrages. If you shall decide right, so much the better for you; if you shall decide wrong, although I shall, as a citizen, suffer from the ill consequences of your wrong judgment, yet I shall only be compelled to bear my portion of it; but I am responsible—I am personally responsible as the representative of the General Government to see that the legal voters of the State shall be protected in the exercise of their own free will on this as well as all other questions.

* * * I desire myself that the people of Kentucky shall understand that the State is regarded as one of the sisterhood of States; that the people are regarded as one of the great American family; that their destinies are united indissolubly with the destinies of the States north of the Ohio river and south of our own line. I am anxious to have you know that the people of Kentucky are not to be distinguished, in any peculiar respect, from the other people of this Union. My friends, I do not know whether it is self-conceit common among Kentuckians or not; it is said that a man who has kissed the blarney stone speaks Irish forever, and it is said that a man who gets a drink of Kentucky whisky is forever a Kentuckian—perhaps it is so. [Laughter.] But let me tell you that the people of your sister states regard you merely as a part of the great American family, and we do not believe, and we are anxious that you should be [illegible] that any [illegible] in any sense [illegible] to repress any portion of the people of Kentucky.

General Palmer gave a review of the anti-slavery policy of Lincoln, after which he gave the following as the conclusion of the whole argument:

This is an argument I make [illegible] these negroes beyond this. [illegible] as old as the earth itself [illegible] that emanates [illegible] from the Almighty himself that every man [illegible] Declaration of Independence, that all men are endowed with certain inalienable rights, among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. [illegible] that these negroes have that right—the right [illegible] They love [illegible] like other men. They [illegible] relations of husband and wife [illegible] I believe that [illegible] great many people would call that [illegible] I am perfectly willing they should.

A SOUTH CAROLINA GENERAL AND HIS NEGROES.—A Washington letter to the Philadelphia Press says:

General Elliott was the rebel officer in command of Fort Sumter when it was finally turned over to our troops. He proved himself a most gentlemanly man and soon became a favorite. He is an intelligent and cultured gentleman. When the bottom of the Secession caldron dropped out, Elliott, who had been a very rich and prosperous man before the war, was reduced to the role of one [illegible] Sergeant [illegible] by his former slaves and asked to see the commander. Upon [illegible] he said that he had called to ask whether it was possible he could get employment in our navy. He said he was utterly ruined and wanted to work for his living. He preferred the navy because he liked the sea, having enjoyed himself for years in sailing, gunning and fishing on the coast near his plantation. He had never [illegible] anything but a gentleman [illegible]. He entered the rebel service because he felt [illegible] that Lincoln would take away his slaves and he had really fought for them. He was outspoken in saying to the officers [illegible] present that and as he had [illegible] to his slaves, they were better off than ever now that they were free.

The Commander told him that we could not give him employment in our navy, and that we [illegible] put it to [illegible] could not take care of those who had borne arms against the old flag. The freedmen the Generals' former slaves then rowed him back from the ship to the shore and seemed to be very much attached to him. He is now a thoroughly subdued rebel. My informant, from whom I get this item, a naval officer of strong anti-slavery sentiments, gives it as his opinion, unhesitatingly, that the former slaves would all vote as their masters desired, if their masters had treated them well. He says that the President spoke like a common sense statesman in his celebrated speech to the Quakers, when he made a similar declaration. The ties between these people, white and black, are very close; in many cases the father owns his children, and sees his likeness repeated in turn in the offspring of his sons.

My informant also says that the slaves are glad of their liberty, but the very fact that they are free makes them fonder of their masters and mistresses where these have been good to them. He has no doubt that emancipation was wise, and will work well. He states that there are many heavy slave centers, vast communities of blacks that have not yet been touched or reached by Union influences. Even in these the blacks know they can't be sold, or whipped or separated from each other, that they can marry, and have a right to demand pay for their labor.

A REASON FOR GOING TO CHURCH.—I desire to give you one or two good reasons for going to church, which do not depend upon the authenticity of Christianity or the sacredness of the Christian Sabbath at all.

My first reason is, that unless a man puts himself into a clean shirt, polished boots and good clothes once a week, and goes out into the public, he is almost certain to relapse into a state of semi-barbarism. You know that unless you do this on the Sabbath you cannot do it at all, for you labor all the week. There is nothing like standing isolated and alone, with no place in the machinery of society, to tone down one's self respect. You must be aware that you are not in sympathy with society. You are looked upon as an outsider, because you refuse to come in contact with society on its broadest and best ground. I tell you it is a good thing for a man to wash his face clean and put on his best clothes and walk to the house of God with his children on the Sabbath, whether he believes in Christianity or not. The church is where at least good morals are inculcated, and where the vices of community are denounced. You can afford to stand by so much of the church, and in doing so, say:

"Here am I, and here are mine, with a stake in the welfare of society, and an interest in the morals of society."

My dear friends, this little operation gone through with every Sabbath, would give you self-respect, help you to keep your head above water, and bring you into sympathy with the best society the world possesses.—Dr. Holland.

HARD TREATMENT.—Russian prisoners sentenced to colonization in Siberia, are left without any assistance on the part of the Government. Those that have some little money make out a tolerable existence. The rest go about in tatters and have to work for their daily bread on the farms of the half wild colonists of the region.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND, September 17th 1865

The weather for the period under review has been very fine, but the [illegible] a fair amount of business to note in all branches of merchandise. The freight shipments to the upper country have been in excess of any week for the season, and it became necessary for the O. S. N. Company to limit the amount they would receive daily owing to the rush, which seems now to be about over. This was partly owing to the increased demand for goods in the mining regions and partly in consequence of the fact that some stocks were running low previous to the arrival of the Oregon.

Markets continue very regular, and sales of considerable amount are noted in various departments of trade.

The question of a steamship for the line between this city, San Francisco, and Victoria, is still talked of. We are still without further particulars concerning the organization, although it is well known that parties are prosecuting negotiations tending to the securing of one vessel, if not two, immediately. The Oriflamme, which we said to parties in San Francisco was noted by telegraph during the week, it is thought very likely will pass into the hands of an Oregon company soon.

Financially there is nothing new or important to report. The telegraph yesterday informs us that the first National Bank on the Pacific coast will be authorized for Portland, in accordance with the petition of a company of gentlemen who associated themselves for the purpose of establishing such an institution in this city some three months since.

It is reported in New York that the currency bonds issued to the Pacific Railroad Company, amounting to [illegible] were permitted to be received by the Controller of the currency as security for the bank notes of the National Banks, but they were not receivable at the Treasury Department as a basis for bank notes [illegible] at the same rate as those which represent the gold loans. [illegible] of notes were reckoned for every $100 of bonds.

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATTENDED this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease anyway connected with the disorder or decay of the Procreative Functions. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

ALLEN'S
LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.
